

HUNGRY POLE SMASHES WINDOW TO GET CHEESE

Last Nickel Gone, Tempting Food Array Leads to His Undoing.

Things looked pretty well for Franz Dominek last Sunday, he said to-day when he was brought to Police Headquarters charged with burglary, for on that day he got a chance to wash dishes in a Bowery restaurant and was paid one dollar and given his dinner.

Dominek is a little fair-haired Pole, twenty-eight years old and weighing maybe 115 pounds.

On Monday the regular dishwasher showed up and Franz was walking around again looking for another job. He spent 20 cents for a lodging, 10 for a shave, 15 for tobacco and 40 for cats and when Tuesday morning came had 5 cents left. That went for coffee.

Shortly before 1 o'clock this morning Dominek found himself in front of Antonio Angelo's cheese and olive oil emporium at No. 63 East Houston Street. Dominek heaved a paving block through that window and grabbed a cheese.

Patrolman Fred King, who made the arrest, allowed Franz to eat some of the cheese.

BRANDEIS MAID FREED.

Mrs. Louise Armstrong, Held After Jewel Theft, Leaves Tomb.

Judge Nott to-day discharged from custody Mrs. Louise Armstrong of No. 126 West 64th Street, who had been in the Tombs for more than a month, under indictment charging theft of $24,000 worth of jewelry from Mrs. Lyela Brandeis of No. 164 West 72d Street, for whom she worked as a maid. District Attorney Swann told Judge Nott there was not a particle of evidence against Mrs. Armstrong. Her husband, Frank Armstrong, a former convict who also worked at the Brandeis home, has been missing since the jewels vanished. Swann said Mrs. Armstrong married him seven years ago and knew nothing of his criminal record.

DARES DEATH, SAVES BABY.

But Mother Is Badly Injured in Doing So.

Flinging herself under a falling electric light pole to protect her baby, Mrs. Louis Weinblatt of Perth Amboy, was badly injured at New Brunswick, N. J., yesterday. An automobile truck driven by Albert Laffak of No. 140 Suffolk Street, Manhattan, ran into the pole, causing it to fall just as Mrs. Weinblatt passed wheeling her baby in a carriage. She was struck on the head and suffered concussion of the brain.

Ex-Athlete Drops Dead.

Richard C. McCoy, fifty-seven, No. 327 Amity Street, Flushing, assistant manager of the Thomas E. Wilson Company, sporting goods dealer, No. 35 West 45th Street, Manhattan, dropped dead of heart disease soon after reaching his office yesterday morning. Mr. McCoy was born in Washington, D. C. When young he was an athlete, and for eighteen years was an outside salesman for Spalding's. He is survived by a wife and two children.

River Searched for Mrs. Edwards's Body.

HOLYOKE, Mass., Nov. 19.—Searching for the body of Mrs. Charles R. Edwards, who has been missing since Nov. 10, a party in a motor-boat spent much time along the river to-day. A reward of $200 has been offered for the recovery of the body.
